New membership and subscription requests begin the 1st of the month when an application/payment is processed and continue for 12 months. All journals are for your personal use only. Resale or institutional use of personal journals is prohibited for five years after delivery. Dues payment includes a non-deductible allocation of $5.05 for Physics Today and $7.09 for APS News. I have read and understand all information on this form and wish to apply for membership in the American Physical Society.

Email addresses are not made available to commercial interests, but may be used by APS to send announcements, notices or conduct research.
To qualify for Student dues (Graduate and Undergraduate) and for student discounts (see the Pricing Sheet), you must be a current full-time student and complete the following student certification.

Early Career Membership available for recent graduates at a reduced rate of $79. This category is designed to help physicists in the period immediately following receipt of their final degree or the termination of their full-time student status. To qualify for Early Career dues, you must be an individual who has received their final degree within the last 12 months. An Early Career member may remain in this category for a maximum of five years. After this five year period, the Early Career member will automatically be billed as an APS Regular member.

Since I am no longer a full-time student and am newly employed (or currently seeking employment*), I am requesting Early Career membership.
